1. Teaching should be done effectively by using the local languages and also by giving examples. 2. Teachers should come to the college properly I.e by not taking a holiday. 3. When the teacher come to the class it should not be a kind of boring I.e usually students sleep inside the classroom and nobody will have the interest to learn. So if a teacher enter into a classroom the decorum of the classroom must be automatically corrected. In other words, the teachers should have such brightness in them. 4. The feedback should not only be about learning, it should also be about sports, fests and inter class as well as inter college competition. 5. Whenever the events are conducted in the indoor auditorium I request not to control the students too much and live them to enjoy. Because they are not still the kids to make them keep their fingers on their lips and just watch the show. They are degree students and they might not enjoy the show and they will have the feeling of unsatisfactory of the event and all their mood will be upset. They are matured enough and are able to analyse the problem. Their way of executing happiness should not be cut off. Because, if not in college life then when?!! 6. This

Lack of effective communication, knowledge, newly appointment lecturers doesn't have efficient knowledge (we'll only teach better than them) not knowing proper English, Lot of spelling mistakes while writing on board, portions were not complete on time, more absence of lecturers, lot of carelessness while teaching, many topics were skipped at the end of the academics, not encourage students to participate in extra curricular activities (sports, dance, singing, etc.), Very less companies for recruitment (no IT and MNCs for recruitment) no students friendly nature (too strict) that's the reason why strikes and other cases were more,

I don't think that something has to be changed or improved. Because they are doing extremely well and they try to teach everything from basics which is rare as per my knowledge. Due to this everyone can easily understand the topics. And they won't give up until most of the interested and hardworking students learn the concept. They even track our attendance and if we are lacking they advice us to attend classes and give productive time and even teach life values. If we sincerely attend the classes there won't be much pressure during exam time because the teaching is so good that we can grasp everything if we listen to the lecture. So, I guess they are all good however they are now.

1 response

I would like to suggest that all teachers should support students to participate more in the activities except studies and should change the teaching method and provide Free seats for the student who are economically low and provide advanced training and courses ,increase placements,stay active in sports and provide sports equipments and proper guidance for career planing opportunities and to provide a proper gulidelines in sports in other competitions.

•Don't assume that students know what you know. What might be obvious to you might not be obvious to them. Teach them concepts in the simplest manner possible and be as specific as you can while using words. •Try being humorous when teaching but only if you can successfully do so. If you can't, don't.

classes were not so effective .so I suggest that teachers should motivate students so that students can concentrate on the subjects .and kannada classes should be taken very seriously and teachers should complete the position so that it will help students to prepare well for exam
